

"It's about fighting back"

Good Morning America

The Just Yell Fire message is that girls and young women have the right to live lives without fear of violence. The Just Yell Fire mission is to empower girls by teaching them their rights, danger awareness, and self defense get-away skills for when they find themselves in a dangerous situation. 130 volunteers created this film to achieve this mission and put predators out of business.

Just Yell Fire has grown into a Million Girl Revolution against sexual assault, dating violence, and abduction across 52 countries but we are far from done. With your help we can eliminate violence against girls and young women in this generation.
